Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of 75 per cent. of such maladies as biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, costiveness, nervous prostration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart and other distressing symptoms. The Oasis Ranch.
As the name indicates, this ranch is a green spot in the desert of Gosute valley, in the eastern portion of Elko county, Nevada. The Oasis Ranch Company through the manager, Mr. E. C. Hardy, of Toano, has undertaken the enterprise of introducing into this State the Norman Percheron strain of horses. Mr. Hardy recently brought from Noman, Ill., about 25 full blood and graded Norman Percheron stallions, which for power, gentleness of disposition and grace of movement are hard to excel. These horses as shown by Mr. Hardy must be seen to be appreciated. Several sales have been made during the past week. Mr. L. C. Bates, of Oakley, Idaho, purchased the two-year-old gray Norman stallion "Motor." This stallion is 18 hands high and one of the best made hardy colts that ever came west of the Rocky mountains, and is one of the largest colts of Illinois for the season of 1887.

John I Read, of Paradise Valley, Nev., took the 3-year-old Norman horse, "Edward H." a coal black without any white. He has a proud, arched neck, heavy shoulders, great lung power. He is broad, well formed, heavy set draft colt. Mr. Read now proposes to wail all draft horse prizes in Paradise Valley hereafter.

General John E. Jones, of Carson City, purchased the two-year-old Norman stallion "Malaga, Jr." who was sired by Old Malaga imported from France. Malaga, Jr., is a coal black, stands 16 hands high, long body well coupled, fine head and neck, broad chest, full lungs and excellent stifles and limbs, and is one of the most active fine traveling stallions of the season. This horse goes to the ranch of Jones & Parry, Pine Valley, to compete with "Harpoon" for the honors of the season. "Harpoon" was bought from last year's shipment of Oasis stud and took the prize at the State Fair at Reno. There are 15 head more of fine Norman stallions yet on hand at the Oasis Ranch, composed of imported stock, of full blood, seven-eighths and three quarter grades, American raised. This stock consists of heavy draft horses, general purpose horses and some active and stylish enough for fine carriage teams.

The Sacramento Bee says: Every man should have a home, whenever he is able to build one." This is sensible advice and should be considered by every man who toils for a living, and particularly those who have families. This is something that almost every working man, of good steady habits, can have. There is not a laboring man in Reno, that has been here any length of time, but who has paid out enough in house rent to buy a comfortable home, and not miss the money. It does not always follow that the full value of property must be paid down immediately. Arrangements can be made whereby such purchases can be made on the installment plan and almost before you are aware of the fact you are in possession of a deed to the property in which you live, or to a desirable lot upon which to build a home. Here town lots are cheap, and the saving of a few dollars per week will soon buy one. Repeating the operation will soon place a house upon it, and by making additions a beautiful place will be the result. This plan of putting away money is a safe one and working men will not only add to their own comfort in life, and save money also, but will leave a legacy to their families. It is a savings bank that will never fail, an investment that pays the best interest in the world. A community of householders insures good government and a healthy state of affairs generally. If working men would give this matter more attention, there would be much less suffering in the land, more happy homes, better dressed and better educated children, and a radical change for the better all round.

A Father's Terrible Mistake.
WASHINGTON, May 14.
Mr. H. Sanford accidentally shot his son, Hamlet, last night. They were spending the night in a house on Mr. Sanford's farm, near the city, and the boy in a somnambulistic spell, got up and went out into the yard. His father woke up, and believing burglars, who had frequently troubled him before, were in the yard, went to open the door, when he saw, but did not recognize, his boy. Asking three times who was there and getting no answer save, "Come on Dick," addressed by the boy to his dog, was understood by his father as a call to an accomplice, he fired, killing the boy instantly.

Her wardrobe is extensive and is said to be, in every respect, the richest display of dresses worn upon the American stage. Unnecessary Misery.

Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines prescribed for it. A Confession of Murder.

NEW YORK, May 14.
James F. Taylor, who, together with Henry B. Chamberlain, was arrested for the murder of Mrs. Margaret Ernest, in New Haven, has made a detailed confession in writing. He charges Chamberlain with having persuaded him to assist in robbing Mrs. Ernest, and also with being the leader throughout in the robbery and murder. The most remarkable point connected with the confession is that Chamberlain fully endorses it in the following voluntary statement: "I, Henry B. Chamberlain, have heard read the annexed statement made by James F. Taylor. I am the person mentioned as Henry Clark, and corroborate it in every detail as true."

Indictments charging him with murder were filed to-day.

Corner Stone Ceremonies at Palo Alto.

MENLO PARK, Cal., May 14.
The corner stone of the Leland Stanford Junior University was laid to-day at Palo Alto, where the University is to be erected. Senator and Mrs. Stanford and seventeen out of the twenty-three Trustees were present, together with nearly 500 visitors. The exercises commenced at half-past 11 o'clock with prayer by Rev. Dr. Stebbins. Following the prayer Judge Lorenzo Sawyer delivered an address. At its conclusion, the stone was laid by Senator Stanford, who was assisted by working masons. After the stone had been sealed, the number present covered it with flowers. The doxology was then sung and the benediction pronounced. This ended the ceremony.

ASYLUM INVESTIGATION.

MORE WITNESSES FOR THE PROSECUTION HEARD.

Synopsis of the Proceedings of Yesterday Afternoon and This Morning—A Recess Taken Until Monday Morning.

After Governor Stevenson called the assemblage, which was so large that it was deemed necessary to hold the investigation in the hall of the Asylum, to order yesterday afternoon at half-past 1 o'clock, John E. Campbell was called to the witness stand and testified as follows:

I downed and choked others to make them work; in Sanborn's case I told the doctor that I had made him go to work.

Redirection examination—Strawbridge and I suffered from cold at night; we slept in the ward; Dr. Bishop told both Loomis and I to make Sanborn go out to work and choke him and make him work; the reason I used the means was because the doctor told me to; I was never told by any officer of the Asylum not to choke patients in order to make them work; this choking business happened several times.

The sworn affidavit of Lester B. Loomis was read in evidence, said Loomis being now a resident of Los Angeles, Cal. In 1885 he was an attendant at the Asylum.

B. G. Clow, being duly sworn, said: Have resided in Washoe county since February, 1886; am a farmer; have known Dr. Bishop 15 or 20 years; knew him 15 or 20 years ago in Washoe City.

Attorney Lindsay—Do you remember serving as a Grand Juror 15 or 20 years ago in Washoe City?

Attorney Coffin objected to the question, as he claimed it had nothing to do with the Asylum investigation.

General Clarke said that he inferred from the question that it was meant to enter upon an inquiry concerning a matter that came before a Grand Jury of Washoe county that existed when the county seat was at Washoe City, pertaining to Dr. Bishop's administration of a public institution at that time.

The Board sustained the objection.

Attorney Lindsay made a vigorous protest against the ruling. He offered testimony bearing on charge No. 1, that the Doctor is unfitted by nature and education for the position he holds; that the evidence of the witness, also of Hon. H. H. Beck, Captain Frank Cook, W. H. Joy and D. B. Boyd, would show that some years ago Dr. Bishop was in charge of the County Hospital of this county; that the Grand Jury then empanelled, of which these gentlemen composed a part of the committee that investigated the condition of said Hospital, and found that the patients therein and under Dr. Bishop's charge were in such a condition that humanity was shocked by the disclosures that a recital of these facts were enough to make a man ashamed that we wear the same form of one who could be guilty of such inhumanity; that the witnesses would testify to facts that they saw with their own eyes.

The Board still rejected the evidence.

Benjamin Shaber was then called, being duly sworn he said: Am employed at the present time as engineer at the Asylum; I also do carpenter work; will have been here three years the first day of next month; have helped to bury all the patients who have died here since I came; two of them were buried with sheets only about them; have no knowledge of any having been buried nude; I have seen the battery applied to patients; I heard one man cry and holler one day and I went out to see what was wrong; the Doctor was there; the battery was applied to the man's neck; it was too much for me; I saw the battery turned on another man, but none suffered as the first one; I walked off and did not want to see any more of it.

Cross examination—I buried the bodies in sheets because I had no orders to dress them; don't know whether Dr. Bishop knew that I buried the bodies with only a sheet around them or not; I suppose the battery was applied to the patient for medical treatment; I know the patients so treated hollered and tried to get away.

Mr. Lindsay called Dr. Bishop to the stand. He was sworn and testified.

Being asked what sort of battery this was, which was exhibited, and which he was using on the patients, he replied: "I don't know. I think it is a galvanic-electric battery; that I think is what it is called; I don't know much about the use of electricity.

Mr. Lindsay stated to the witness that he wished to know whose make the battery was, and the Doctor replied that there was a name inside of it.

"Well, doctor," said Mr. Lindsay, "can't you tell me without looking at the name, what sort of battery you have been using?"

Here Attorney Coffin opened the battery, and discovered the name of the dealer in the article, but Mr. Lindsay insisted that he wanted to know whose invention the instrument was, and on a further inspection of the printed matter it was finally ascertained that the battery was a "Davis-Kidder."

The question was then asked the Doctor which was the negative and which the positive poles of the battery, and he replied: "Well, there is very little difference in the poles of this battery. The current changes so quickly back and forth which is the negative and which the positive." The further question being asked the Doctor, "If you wanted to affect a person's heart with an electric shock, what poles would you use and to what portions of the body would you place them?" The reply was that he would move the handles or poles all over the body in every place so that he would be sure to strike the right spot.

The Doctor admitted that the books said that electricity, when applied, must be applied to the part afflicted, but to be sure about it he deemed it best to move the poles all over the body.

The Doctor stated that when he came to the Asylum there was a large battery there, which was used by his predecessor. He did not know what sort of battery it was, but Marsden, the commissary, said it was no account, and he recommended the one the Doctor was using now; so he got it.

He thought Marsden was pretty well posted on electricity, so he discarded the battery his predecessor used and adopted the "Davis Kidder."

Dr. Dawson was then called to the witness stand and questioned as to the downing and choking Sanborn; I don't know why my ward was discriminated against; I asked Johnson for more steam for my ward; I don't remember whether I made out a requisition for blankets or not; I told the doctor my patients required more warmth, and he said he would attend to the matter; Dr. Bishop was not present when I downed and choked Sanborn; I uses generally made of electricity for diseases of the body.

Order was called this morning at a quarter past 9 o'clock by Governor Stevenson.

Pat Bracken, being duly sworn, said: I reside in Reno; am a laborer; was employed at the Asylum from the time the building was erected until the 15th of last January; was employed as a laborer; never was at Dr. Bishop's Spanish Springs Valley ranch; know of supplies having been taken from the Asylum supply to the ranch; during the time I was in the employ of the Asylum I did some work, harvesting hay, at the Savage ranch; the work was done by Dr. Bishop's order; worked off and on there for a month; other employees of the ranch worked there with me, also some patients; the patients were under my care there; the State wagon, mowing machine, rake and horses were employed there; four or five of Dr. Bishop's men worked there with me; during that time I ate many of my meals at the Asylum; at the ranch a fellow named Strawbridge did the cooking; he was employed by Dr. Bishop; the grub supplies came from the Asylum; at least, I have seen groceries of various kinds go from the Asylum to the ranch; Dr. Bishop kept from 25 to 30 sheep on the Asylum grounds; they were kept here until they were fat; I heard they were then sold; he had on the Asylum grounds six or eight head of horses; there were times when patients under my care complained of not getting sufficient food; Dr. Bishop at times sent me to the kitchen to get them something more to eat; several attendants asked me not to work them too hard; was told they were not able, and did not get enough to eat; I took charge of the State property the best I knew how; I know of Dr. Bishop's boys having done damage to property belonging to the Asylum; I heard the damage spoken of frequently by employees of the institution; I never spoke to Dr. Bishop of the matter because I feared I would be discharged; I have heard that several attendants were reprimanded by Dr. Bishop for interfering; have followed ranching and farming nearly all my life; have noticed a loss of hay on the ranch by its being put up too green; I spoke of the matter to the Doctor; he said he would see to it; as a rule it was not seen to until the hay was heated; this was often the case until last season; have heard others speak of the loss of hay; knew of two or three patients from the Asylum working on the Thomas ranch; two patients were out at Dr. Bishop's ranch working there for a while; knew of patients who worked on George Alt's ranch; the patients did not complain much of having to work.

Cross examination—While I worked at the ranches I signed the pay-roll at the Asylum for my wages; I was discharged from the Asylum; don't know why I was discharged; I heard Ben Ship say that the Doctor's boys did damage amounting to about $50 a month.

Dr. Dawson was called to the stand and testified concerning a battery (that was produced) used by him on patients for nervous trouble when he was in charge of the Asylum. The galvanic and ferratic currents of batteries were inquired into, and his use of the two on patients discussed.

On cross-examination the Doctor explained the difference between the battery he used while Superintendent of the Asylum and the one Dr. Bishop used on patients. He was closely questioned as to his knowledge of electric shocks produced on patients, and of the theories of electricians having written works. Several of the works were produced and extracts read. The witness continued: was succeeded by Dr. Bishop as Superintendent of the Asylum; two years ago I prepared the charges preferred against Dr. Bishop; I have not employed Mr. Lindsay to prosecute the present charges against him; I have agreed to pay part of Mr. Lindsay's fees; Dr. Bishop is a personal enemy of mine; I might have said that I would pursue Dr. Bishop until I got him out of his present position, but I never said would pursue him to his grave; I have said that I would prosecute any witness who lied to me in this matter.

Redirect examination—There is no dispute among authorities as to the galvanic stock or steady current being the proper treatment on patients for nervous diseases; the faradic shock or interrupted current is used to stimulate the muscles; I speak of those works I have read; electricity in its curative powers is in its infancy, I believe, as is electricity for practical purposes; I do not consider it safe or proper to use such a battery as Dr. Bishop used on patients, especially when it is used indiscriminately.

John Little, being duly sworn, said: I have resided in this county since 1865; I know George Alt; have worked for him as a ranch hand for about nine years; knew a French Canadian patient from the Asylum that worked on the ranch named Dave; he did general ranch work; he boarded at the ranch; I believe he was a patient at the Asylum; he came up to the Asylum on Sundays to change his clothes; don't know whether he ever received compensation for his work from Alt or not.

Cross examination—I buried the bodies in sheets because I had no orders to dress them; don't know whether Dr. Bishop knew that I buried the bodies with only a sheet around them or not; I suppose the battery was applied to the patient for medical treatment; I know the patients so treated hollered and tried to get away.

Mr. Lindsay called Dr. Bishop to the stand. He was sworn and testified.

Being asked what sort of battery this was, which was exhibited, and which he was using on the patients, he replied: "I don't know. I think it is a galvanic-electric battery; that I think is what it is called; I don't know much about the use of electricity.

Mr. Lindsay stated to the witness that he wished to know whose make the battery was, and the Doctor replied that there was a name inside of it.

"Well, doctor," said Mr. Lindsay, "can't you tell me without looking at the name, what sort of battery you have been using?"

Here Attorney Coffin opened the battery, and discovered the name of the dealer in the article, but Mr. Lindsay insisted that he wanted to know whose invention the instrument was, and on a further inspection of the printed matter it was finally ascertained that the battery was a "Davis-Kidder."

The question was then asked the Doctor which was the negative and which the positive poles of the battery, and he replied: "Well, there is very little difference in the poles of this battery. The current changes so quickly back and forth which is the negative and which the positive."

The further question being asked the Doctor, "If you wanted to affect a person's heart with an electric shock, what poles would you use and to what portions of the body would you place them?" The reply was that he would move the handles or poles all over the body in every place so that he would be sure to strike the right spot.

The Doctor admitted that the books said that electricity, when applied, must be applied to the part afflicted, but to be sure about it he deemed it best to move the poles all over the body.

The Doctor stated that when he came to the Asylum there was a large battery there, which was used by his predecessor. He did not know what sort of battery it was, but Marsden, the commissary, said it was no account, and he recommended the one the Doctor was using now; so he got it.

He thought Marsden was pretty well posted on electricity, so he discarded the battery his predecessor used and adopted the "Davis Kidder."

Dr. Dawson was again called to the witness stand and questioned as to the Bishop was unfit for the position.

Maline Campbell, being duly sworn, said: Am 19 years of age; my father and mother reside in Reno; am employed at the Asylum as an attendant; was employed at the Asylum when the German Antoine; the doctor was putting the battery on another patient; Antoine made a nasty sign at the doctor; the doctor said he would give him (Antoine) some of it; I helped to hold Antoine when the battery was applied to him; Antoine did not holler; the battery was applied twice to Antoine on this occasion; when the battery was applied the second time it was to his hand and forehead; could not say that sponges were put in the poles of the battery; one of the poles was wet; it was applied to Antoine's forehead; I helped to hold Antoine down; my brother helped to hold him; Antoine did not squirm; I don't remember of his hollering; my brother held the pole to his forehead; the second application of the battery was applied probably a couple of minutes after the first.

Hoister Stevens, being duly sworn, said: I reside in Washoe county; am a rancher; have an orchard and bees; know Dr. Bishop; tried to sell Dr. Bishop some fruit last Fall; my apples were of good quality, and weighed probably 45 or 50 pounds to the box; my honey was as nice as I have ever seen; I offered to sell the apples for $1.25 a box to the Doctor; he said he had plenty of apples and honey; I offered the honey for $1 a box; I had plenty of it; the boxes weigh from 8 to 12 pounds each; the Doctor, I was told, bought honey and apples from George Alt.

Cross examination—The boxes weigh from 8 to 12 pounds each; I am willing to sell them for $1 each; I will sell the honey for ten cents a pound.

Mr. Bracken was recalled to the stand: Have helped to bury everyone who died at the Asylum up to last January; I have had, in a couple of cases, to roll up the coffins in gunny sacks to keep the blood from running out of the coffin into my clothes; this was caused by proper precaution not having been taken after a post mortem examination was held.

Mr. Lindsay—Dr. Bishop, did you ever enter into a contract with Mother Dolores to saw wood?

Dr. Bishop—No, but I sent two patients to her to saw wood; probably 40 cords of wood were sawed; I know of no contract that had been let to saw the wood.

Mr. Shaber was recalled to the stand: Dr. Bishop's boys have destroyed some of the Asylum property, as any boys would do who were left alone; I could hardly say how much damage they have done to Asylum property; I did say to Mr. Bechtel that they did at least $20 worth of damage a month; don't know of any harness they cut up; I have heard it talked of; the damage has been talked about among employees of the Asylum; some damage was done by them yesterday; I know of no restraint having been put upon them.

Cross-examination—The damage done yesterday by the boys was using good lumber for a water-wheel; they have broken several windows by throwing rocks; I have worked at the Asylum three years; cannot estimate the damage done by the boys sawing up lumber in the three years; they may have used up a hundred dollars worth of lumber; they used gas-pipes to make a sled, squirt guns, etc.; they made two sleds large enough to hitch ponies to.

Redirect—I complained of the damage done by the boys to Mr. Bechtel.

Orville Sessions, being duly sworn, said: I reside within half a mile of this Asylum; have visited dances here that inmates participated in; one of the patients once gave my wife a letter; it has been handed to Dr. Bishop; one of the attendants of the Asylum came after it; Dr. Bishop said "I'll search her;" I suppose he meant the patient who wrote the letter.

The prosecution closed its case, and, it being noon, a recess was taken until Monday morning at 9 o'clock.
